

„FUCKING BEAUTIFUL“ are one of the most well known and loved swiss underground bands. For 8 years, 4 Albums and countless concerts they have proved that they are one of the best live acts who also happen to produce very distinct albums, decidedly left field of the mainstream but still with such high songwriting qualities to have won the award for best swiss song of 2004 on national radio DRS3 (Song: „Show me what you got“).

They overwhelm and electrify every venue with their unruly energy and their emphatically independent music style somewhere between Iggy Pop, Bowie, the Stones and B52.

You can tell by the passionate, provocative and very professional performance that FUCKING BEAUTIFUL have earned their dues by playing the London circuit and other hard to crack international cities. And you can tell by their hunger that they would do it over and over again, not sleeping till they have earned their rightful place in the heart of the european rock connoisseur.

The bandleader St. Sebastian (Sebastian „Baschi“ Hausmann) was a founder member of the biggest Swiss Pop/Rock Band „Lovebugs“. After 10 years of helping to shape their songs and profile, with a gold record under his belt, he left before he succumbed to their collective desire for mainstream approval and subsequent musical irrelevance.

Instead of betraying his ideals for a quiet life, St. Sebastian is still surfing on the sharp edge of artistic freedom always giving the people what they want:

Passionate and energetic performances of heart and gut wrenching songs with enough tongue in cheek sex and sassiness to make every last woman and man lose their cool and scream: You're FUCKING BEAUTIFUL.
